SPREADING THE WORD

NDSU's Marketing and Communications team closed out 2025 by bringing the year's most meaningful moments together in a dynamic year-end video that celebrates the people, stories and achievements that shaped the past year. From academic excellence and research breakthroughs to student life and community impact, the video captures the energy and momentum of NDSU. At the same time, it looks ahead with optimism, setting the stage for another year of growth, innovation and new horizons to discover.

BISON SPOTLIGHT

Our Bison Spotlight feature this month is Angela Reinke, a lead student case manager in NDSU's Case Management office. With 30 years of experience working in case management in state agencies, Reinke is deeply committed to ensuring students have the support and resources they need to succeed both in and out of the classroom. Her work focuses on connecting students with on and off-campus services, including helping students navigate mental and physical health needs, understanding and obtaining insurance, as well as overcoming any other barriers that may impact their academic journey. Passionate about student growth, Reinke finds the greatest reward in watching students build the skills and confidence to turn challenges into successes and make the most of their NDSU experience.

"When I started four years ago as the first NDSU case manager, universities were just beginning to understand that additional support was needed to fully assist students. NDSU is ahead of most and well positioned to identify students in need early, connect them to support and assist the students through a coordinated care model. We support the whole student."

— Angela Reinke, lead student case manager

RESEARCH RECAP

As an R1, land-grant institution ranked among the nation's top 100 public research universities, NDSU is driving innovation through groundbreaking research that serves North Dakota and beyond. From emerging technologies to community-focused studies, our faculty, staff and students are advancing knowledge and creating real-world impact.
